Locke Supply Trade Show

Call Okie was an exhibitor at Locke Trade Show Conference held February 18th & 19th, located in the COX Center, in Oklahoma City. The trade conference is sponsored by Locke Supply in appreciation to their valued owners and customers from their 150 stores representing Arkansas, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. During the two day conference 7,000 attendees received information from over 300 vendors.

The conference provided a great opportunity for Call Okie to promote our message and DIAL 811 to the professional contractors, and plumbers involved with construction industry. During this conference Call Okie was excited to display the NEWLY redesigned trade show graphics and distribute the 2011 Excavator Guide and other marketing materials to individuals associated with industry, contractors and even homeowners who need to use Call Okie prior to excavation.

Meeting dates are subject to change due to the inclement weather

Round Table Meeting

Call Okie and the City of Stillwater held a roundtable meeting in Stillwater on February 25th, to discuss current issues regarding the Call Okie process and GIS/database. Call Okie representatives Naomi Martinez GIS/Database Manager, Leslie Carter Damage Prevention Coordinator and Jerry West Damage Prevention Manager attended the meeting. Anthony Daniel, Engineer for the City of Stillwater, invited 10 members from their GIS Database, water, safety, street and electric departments to the meeting.

Jerry West presented a brief overview of the One-Call process followed by Naomi discussing the benefits of registering new facilities and updating their current database. Naomi presented the city of Stillwater a map of their current database. Call Okie shared information and some best practices to enable the city the opportunity to improve the integration of One-Call process with their infrastructure protection. At the close of the meeting Anthony shared that he appreciated Call Okie support.
